PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Purpose & Benefits of Abena Wing Incontinence Pad

The Abena Wing Incontinence Pad is specifically designed to provide superior leakage protection and comfort for individuals experiencing moderate to heavy incontinence. With its unique winged design, the pad offers additional coverage to prevent side leakages, making it an ideal choice for overnight use or for those with an active lifestyle. The wings enhance the security of the pad's placement, ensuring that it stays in position and offers consistent protection.

Features

- Winged Design: Extended side wings help secure the pad in place, preventing bunching and shifting, which can lead to leaks, especially during movement or sleep.
- High Absorbency: Features a highly absorbent core that locks in moisture quickly to keep the skin dry and comfortable, reducing the risk of irritation or skin breakdown.
- Leakage Barriers: Equipped with soft-standing leak guards that effectively contain any potential side leakage, providing peace of mind and added protection.
- Breathable Materials: The backsheet is breathable, promoting air circulation which helps maintain skin health and comfort.
- Odour Control Technology: Includes advanced odour control components that neutralize unpleasant smells, maintaining freshness throughout the day.
- Dermatologically Tested: Proven to be skin-friendly, suitable for sensitive skin, and reducing the risk of allergic reactions or irritations.

Specifications

- Material: Composed of a soft, non-woven top layer for comfort, superabsorbent polymers for moisture retention, and a breathable, leak-proof back sheet.

- Size: Available in multiple sizes to accommodate different body shapes and levels of incontinence.
- Packaging: Pads are individually wrapped for hygiene and convenience, making it easy to carry extras while on the go.
- Application: Suitable for both men and women.

The Abena Wing Incontinence Pad is an excellent choice for anyone needing extra protection to manage incontinence effectively. Its design prioritizes both security and comfort, enabling users to continue with their daily activities or to rest through the night confidently and without interruptions.
