PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

PURPOSE & BENEFITS

General Purpose Slings are easy-to-use and easy to fit. They are a multi-purpose sling that provides toileting access as well as good back and thigh support. The General Purpose Sling comes with leg and shoulder straps and can accommodate various seating positions. These slings are available in fabric and mesh materials and can be supplied without head support.

FEATURES

- General purpose slings are the most frequently used sling type and are suitable for the majority of lifting situations.
- These multi-use slings are a valuable addition to any care environment, including hospitals, aged care facilities and rehabilitation centres.
- General purpose slings feature a versatile design that supports the patient comfortably throughout the transfer.
- Intuitively designed, the range features a simple colour-coded sizing system to enable carers to quickly select the appropriate sling for each patient.
- Slings are designed with patient comfort and safety at the forefront.
- The general purpose slings provide support through the back, with some styles also featuring head support.
- Durable yet lightweight polyester construction offers comfort while also being easy to clean.
- General purpose slings come in a number of sizes and can be used with patient lifters with a loop attachment system.
