PURPOSE AND BENEFITS

The Etac Socky stocking aid is specifically designed to assist with putting on support and compression stockings. It accommodates various lengths and types of stockings, making it versatile and suitable for different needs.

The Socky consists of two long sections of nylon fabric that connect with Velcro. Each section is equipped with a large handle, providing a secure grip for pulling the stocking over the foot and leg with ease.

Using the Socky for support and compression stockings is simple. Start by fastening the Velcro and folding the nylon fabric. Then, slide the stocking over the Socky. Grip the handles with your hands and pull up the stocking by twisting the Socky around your hands until it splits into two parts.

The Etac Socky stocking aid offers a practical solution for individuals needing assistance in putting on support and compression stockings. Its user-friendly design simplifies the process and promotes independence and convenience.
